What are the distinctive features of this provision?

Please briefly outline what you feel to be the distinctive features or strengths of this provision, using bullet points. These may relate to the provision, the academic unit in which it is based, or the education provider more generally.

What main priorities have been identified for further development of the provision? Please briefly advise any specific ways in which you feel the Society's visit to your programme may be able to support you with regard to these priorities.

You must include a statement in your programme handbook(s) advising students that, in order to be eligible for PSI graduate membership, they must pass the independent research project, and gain at least a Lower Second Class Honours degree, or its equivalent (i.e. an overall pass mark of at least 50% for conversion programmes). Please tell us where these statements are located. If students are advised of these requirements via an alternative source, please provide further information below.

Where your institution's regulations allow students to achieve the award without passing the independent research project, please advise us of the steps you have taken to seek exemption from this regulation on the grounds of accreditation requirements.

For conversion courses, if your institution does not use a percentage-based marking scheme, please provide brief details of how your scheme will enable the Society to identify those graduates who have achieved a minimum of 50% overall.

Evidence Requirements

For this programme standard we expect you to submit the following evidence sources: A document detailing:

- Programme learning outcomes
- Module learning outcomes
- How learning outcomes map to programme content and assessments
- Teaching and learning strategy
- Programme-focused assessment strategy

4. Programme content

4.1 Core curriculum within overall programme

In order to facilitate reviewers' evaluations of the coverage of the core curriculum in terms of its breadth and depth, please detail the modules that students need to take to achieve the award, and which modules relate to the core curriculum. This table will also enable reviewers to identify any potential distinctive or positive practice present in the programme content.

Module code	Module title	Year of delivery OR indicate continuous/modular	Level/stage	Required for achievement of award? (yes no)	Relates to core curriculum component (state component)?	Assesses core curriculum component (state component)?

4.2 Practical work

4.2.1

Briefly detail the approach taken to ensure that students engage in an appropriate level of practical work across the curriculum. Include the means by which this practical work is organised in the context of the programme's mode of study.

4.2.2

In this table present information on coverage of, and student engagement in, practical work: nature and type of practical work completed; methodologies and techniques covered; data collection, preparation, and analysis opportunities. Throughout this table clearly indicate where activities focus on qualitative, quantitative, or mixed methods, as well as research ethics.

Module code	Module title	Coverage of, and student engagement in, practical work

4.3 The independent research project

Briefly detail the approach taken with regard to independent research project supervision in this programme, including: who supervises projects; how supervision is organised and how supervisor workloads are allocated; how it is ensured that supervisors hold the appropriate qualifications, experience, and research literacies; and the processes in place to ensure students are supported throughout the process.

6.4 Staff: Student ratio

The staff: student ratio (SSR) is a calculation that represents the overall SSR for the psychology provision. It is calculated by taking the overall student FTE (N) and dividing it by the overall staff FTE (D). Using the information provided in the tables above, please calculate the staff student ratio for your provision.

Staff FTE (D)	Student FTE (N)	=	SSR (N ÷ D)
